

THE JOINT CONFERENCE 2007 OF ICKS AND KAUPA
IMPENDING CHANGES ON THE KOREAN PENINSULA AND
THE FUTURE OF U.S.-KOREAN RELATIONS

June 28 - 29, 2007, Thursday and Friday

East-West Center
Schram Room (Rm 4005), Burns Hall
1601 East West Road, Honolulu, Hawaii 96848

North Pacific and Northeast Asia: c1700

Source: <http://www.barron.co.uk/?pgid=97&artid=151>

Sponsored by
International Council on Korean Studies (ICKS)
Korean-American University Professors Association (KAUPA)
Council on U.S.-Korean Security Studies (COKUSS)
East-West Center (EWC)

INTERNATIONAL COUNCIL ON KOREAN STUDIES (ICKS)

The International Council on Korean Studies is a non-profit and non-partisan organization dedicated to the advancement of Korean studies and related academic and professional activities in the United States and abroad through conferences, seminars, publications, and other relevant activities. The Council aims to promote consciousness of the significance of Korean affairs, Korean heritage, and issues of Korean Reunification among professionals and the public alike. The Council also aims to help Korean Americans learn about their special problems and possible remedies, and encourage them to join the main stream of American society. The Council holds the annual conferences and publishes the International Journal of Korean Studies twice a year.

KOREAN-AMERICAN UNIVERSITY PROFESSORS' ASSOCIATION (KAUPA)

Established in 1986, the Korean-American University Professors Association is a comprehensive and interdisciplinary organization whose membership includes professors, research scientists, post-docs, academic administrators of Korean origin working at a higher education institution in the U.S. and Canada. KAUPA is a non-profit, non-partisan, and non-sectarian organization. Its main purpose is to facilitate cooperation and participation among its members to share mutual interests in scholarly, professional and social activities related to higher education in and between North America and Korea. Given the diversity of KAUPA members, it strives to provide professional services to the government, higher education institutions, and civic society at large as well as to meet the demands for personal and professional growth of KAUPA members.

COUNCIL ON U.S.-KOREAN SECURITY STUDIES (CUSKOS)

The Council on U.S.-Korean Security Studies was established as a bi-national, non-profit organization in 1984 by a small group of retired military officers, diplomats, and scholars from the United States and Korea. The purpose of the Council is the promotion and facilitation of the study and enhancement of political, economic, and military relations between the United States and Korea. Specifically, the Council explores the nature of Korean-U.S. security relations in Asia for the next two decades, with a focus on unification and post-unification. The Council has actively promoted exchanges of views and contacts on these matters among scholars, military officers (active duty and retired), businessmen, policy analysts, journalists, and others from the U.S. and Korea as well as from Japan, Russia, China, and other East Asian nations. The annual conferences have addressed a broader range of issues ranging from classic security issues, the prognosis, and impact of Korean unification, and business and trade issues.

EAST-WEST CENTER (EWC)

The East-West Center is an education and research organization established by the U.S. Congress in 1960 to strengthen relations and understanding among the peoples and nations of Asia, the Pacific, and the United States. The Center contributes to a peaceful, prosperous, and just Asia Pacific community by serving as a vigorous hub for cooperative research, education, and dialogue on critical issues of common concern to the Asia Pacific region and the United States. Funding for the Center comes from the U.S. government, with additional support provided by private agencies, individuals, foundations, corporations, and the governments of the region. As a national and regional resource, the Center offers: An interdisciplinary research program that examines major issues of critical importance in U.S.-Asia Pacific relations; Dialogue and professional enrichment programs that focus on groups central to the communication of ideas: the media, political and policy leaders, and educators; Educational programs to develop the human resources needed by the United States and the Asia Pacific region in a new era of increased interdependence.

The Joint Annual Conference 2007 of ICKS-KAUPA

IMPENDING CHANGES ON THE KOREAN PENINSULA AND
THE FUTURE OF U.S.-KOREAN RELATIONS

East-West Center
Schram Room (Rm 4005), Burns Hall
1601 East West Road, Honolulu, Hawaii 96848
June 28 - 29, 2007, Thursday and Friday

Sponsored by
International Council on Korean Studies (ICKS)
Korean-American University Professors Association (KAUPA)
Council on Korea-US Security Studies (COKUSS)
East-West Center (EWC)

JUNE 28, 2007, THURSDAY

8:00 AM	Continental Breakfast and Registration
8:45 – 9:00 AM	Opening Remarks Dr. Hong Nack Kim, ICKS President and West Virginia University Dr. Sunwoong Kim, KAUPA President and University of Wisconsin
9:00 – 11:15 AM	Panel I. Legacy of the Rho Moohyun Administration and Prospects of the 2007 Presidential Election in South Korea
Moderator	Dr. Hong Nack Kim, ICKS President and West Virginia University
Papers	“Success and Failure of the Rho Moohyun Administration” Dr. Choong Nam Kim, East-West Center “The 2007 Presidential Election in South Korea: Candidates and Issues” Dr. Kap-Yun Lee, Sogang University “Forecasting the 2007 Presidential Election in South Korea” Dr. Jin Ha Kim, Keimyung University
10:00-10:15 AM	Coffee Break
Discussants	Dr. Jong O. Ra, Hollins University and Virginia Tech Dr. Young Whan Kihl, Iowa State University of Science and Technology Dr. Hong Nack Kim, West Virginia University
11:30-11:45 AM	Group Photos to be taken

11:30 – 1:30 PM

Luncheon and Luncheon Speech

Speaker “Mounting Tension in Northeast Asia: Problems and Remedies”
Dr. Charles E. Morrison, President, East-West Center

Introduced by Dr. Hang Yul Rhee
Chairman of ICKS Board of Directors and Shepherd University

2:00 – 3:45 PM

Panel II. A Nuclear North Korea and Power Relations on the Korean Peninsula

Moderator Ambassador Raymond Burghardt
Director, East-West Seminars, East-West Center

Papers “A Nuclear North Korea and Prospects of U.S. East Asia Policy”
Dr. Stephen E. Noerper, New York University

“A Nuclear North Korea and Prospects of China’s Foreign Policy toward the United States”
Dr. Elizabeth Van Vie Davis, Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies

“A Nuclear North Korea and Prospects of Two Korea Relations Beyond the 2007 ROK Presidential Election”
Dr. Young Whan Kihl, Iowa State University of Science and Technology

Discussants Dr. Hang Yul Rhee, ICKS Chairman and Shepherd University
Dr. Alexandre Y. Mansourov, Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies
Dr. Choong Nam Kim, East-West Center
Dr. Harry W. Richardson, University of Southern California

3:45 - 4:15 PM

Coffee Service

4:15 – 6:00 PM

Panel III. A Nuclear North Korea and the U.S.-Korea Security Alliance

Moderator General & Dr. Jae-Chang Kim, ROKA (Ret.), COKUSS Co-Chairman

Papers "Better Aligning the Military and Political Dimensions of the ROK-US Alliance: Possibilities for the Two New Administrations to Come"
Dr. Patrick M. Morgan, University of California at Irvine

“Naval Cooperation among South Korea, the United States, and Japan: Possibilities and Prospects”
Dr. Hyun Ki Kim, Kyonggi University

“A Nuclear North Korea and Prospects of Japan’s Defense Policy”
Dr. David Fouse, Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies

Discussants Dr. Steven Kim, Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies
Dr. Jae Kap Ryoo, Kyonggi University
Maj. General (Ret) Kwang On Hyun, Council on Korea-U.S. Sec. Studies
Dr. Hugo Wheegook Kim, East-West Research Institute

6:30 – 8:30 PM

Dinner and Dinner Speech

Speaker

“U.S.-Korean Relations: A Perspective”
Admiral Thomas B. Fargo, USN (Retired)
Former Commander, United States Pacific Command

Speaker

“Impending Changes on the Korean Peninsula and the Future of U.S.-ROK Security Alliance” General & Dr. Jae-Chang Kim, ROKA (Retired)
Co-Chairman, Council on Korea-U.S. Security Studies

Introduced by

Dr. Hong Nack Kim, ICKS President and West Virginia University

JUNE 29, 2007, FRIDAY

7:30 AM

Continental Breakfast

8:00 – 9:30 AM

Panel IV. A Nuclear North Korea and Prospects of the Korean Economy

Moderator

Dr. Youn-suk Kim, Kean University

Papers

“Prospects of U.S.-Korea Free Trade Agreement”
Dr. Scott C. Bradford, Brigham Young University

“A Nuclear North Korea and Prospects for the Korean Economy:
An International Business Perspective”
Dr. Yoon-shik Park, George Washington University

“Political Economy of U.S.-Korea Free Trade Agreement”
Dr. Soon Paik, U.S. Department of Labor

Discussants

Dr. Dong-Keun Jeong, North Carolina A&T University
Mr. Jung-In Youn, Ph.D. Candidate, University of Hawaii
Dr. Chang-Hee Christine Bae, University of Washington

9:30 – 10:00 AM

Coffee Break

10:00 – 11:30 AM

Panel V. A Shifting Paradigm in U.S.-East Asia Relations

Moderator

Mr. Richard W. Baker, East-West Center

Papers

A Changing Paradigm in U.S.-East Asia Relations: Strategic and Economic Perspectives” Dr. Terence J. Roehrig, U.S. Naval War College

“The Change of Paradigm in U.S.-East Asia Relations: A Socio-Cultural Perspective” Dr. Emanuel Yi Pastreich, Woosong University, Korea

“Korean Student Migrants to the U.S.: A Historical Perspective”
Dr. Sunwoong Kim, KAUPA President and University of Wisconsin

Discussants	Dr. Jong O. Ra, Hollins University and Virginia Tech Dr. Hang Yul Rhee, Shepherd University Dr. Jonathan T. Kriekhaus, University of Missouri - Columbia
12:00 – 1:30 PM	Luncheon and Luncheon Speech
Speaker	“U.S.-Korea Relations: Past, Present, and Future” Mr. Dae-Hyun Kang, Consul General Consulate General of the Republic of Korea, Hawaii
	Introduced by Dr. Hong Nack Kim, ICKS President and West Virginia University
2:00 – 4:15 PM	Panel VI. Higher Education in Korea: Present and Future
Moderator	Dr. Sunwoong Kim, KAUPA President and University of Wisconsin
Papers	“Internationalization and Global Competitiveness of Higher Education System in Korea.” Dr. Young Chul Kim, Korean Educational Development Institute
	“Funding Higher Education in Korea” Professor Young Lee, Hanyang University
3:00 – 3:15 PM	Coffee Break
Discussants:	Dr. Ji-Yub (Jay) Kim, University of Southern California Dr. Keun Woo Lee, ROK Ministry of Education and East-West Center Dr. Eui Hang Shin, University of South Carolina and Seoul National Univ.
4:30 – 5:00 PM	Closing Remarks and Other Communications
Remarks	Dr. Sunwoong Kim, KAUPA President and University of Wisconsin Dr. Hong Nack Kim, ICKS President and West Virginia University
5:00 PM	End of the Conference
7:00 – 9:00 PM	ICKS Board of Directors Meetings
Chair	Dr. Hang Yul Rhee, Chairman, ICKS Board of Directors, and Shepherd University

Conference Contact Information /Program Co-Chairs
Dr. Hugo W. Kim at hugo33kim@verizon.net for ICKS/Program
Dr. Soon Paik at paik.soon@bls.gov for ICKS/Logistics
Dr. Yoon-shik Park at yspark@gwu.edu for KAUPA
Dr. Jae Kap Ryoo at jaeryoo@empas.com for COKUSS
Dr. Choong Nam Kim at kimcn@eastwestcenter.org for EWC

BRIEF BIOGRAPHIES FOR PANELISTS AND SPEAKERS ICKS-KAUPA JOINT ANNUAL CONFERENCE 2007

Bae, Chang-Hee Christine: Chang-Hee Christine Bae held the positions of Lecturer in the School of Urban and Regional Planning at USC and Vice-President of King R. Woods & Associates, Inc. of Los Angeles prior to joining our faculty in Autumn 1996. She holds a Ph.D. in Urban and Regional Planning from USC, a Master's in Regional Planning from SUNY, Albany, and a BA in Business Administration from Ewha Woman's University of Seoul, Korea. Dr. Bae's dissertation, "The Income Distribution Impacts of Air Quality Regulations: A Los Angeles Case Study," is one example of her work at the intersection of planning for diverse communities, sustainable urbanization, and environmental justice. The key finding is that poor people and poor communities gain most from cleaning up the air. The dissertation also challenges a widely held myth, namely that there is an unavoidable trade-off between jobs and the environment. The results of her dissertation and related research have appeared or are forthcoming in the Journal of the American Planning Association, Environment and Planning, and the Journal of Environmental Management. Within the professional world, Dr. Bae has ten years of experience as a planning consultant. She has recently worked on the environmental impact review for a new Learning Resource Center and Library on a historically and culturally sensitive site for a college focusing on underprivileged, largely minority students. She has also recently been project manager during the mixed use redevelopment project (with an affordable housing component) in a predominantly African-American neighborhood in South Central LA. She has been involved in several Rebuild LA projects, giving her an appreciation for social and community issues. Dr. Bae teaches in several different areas including sustainable urbanization, community planning for diverse neighborhoods, land use planning, transportation planning, and analytical techniques in planning.

Baker, Richard W.: Richard Baker was appointed Special Assistant to East-West Center President Charles Morrison in March 2003. He joined the East-West Center's research staff in 1988, following a 20-year career in the U.S. Foreign Service, and has served in a variety of positions including as interim director of the Center's research program in 2000. He holds a Master of Public Affairs degree in International Relations from the Woodrow Wilson School at Princeton University. His Foreign Service assignments included Singapore, Indonesia, and Australia, and various positions at the Department of State in Washington. Mr. Baker's areas of interest include U.S. foreign policy making, Asia Pacific regionalism, Southeast Asia (with a special focus on Indonesia), Australia/New Zealand, and the Pacific Islands. Among other current duties, he coordinates the Center's Islamic Initiative. He was the principal editor of Indonesia: The Challenge of Change (1999) and a co-editor and co-author of the 1997-2005 Asia Pacific Security Outlook series (he now leads the successor Asia Pacific Security Survey).

Bradford, Schott C.: Scott Bradford is Associate Professor of Economics at Brigham Young University and Non-resident Fellow with the Institute for International Economics (IIE). His research focuses on trade barriers in rich nations. He has written papers on the political economy of protection, with a particular focus on how job loss concerns influence trade policies. He has also produced estimates of the amount of protection in rich countries and has conducted Applied General Equilibrium analyses of the welfare effects of trade barriers. In addition, he has conducted studies of the Japanese economy, the Korean economy, and domestic distribution systems in rich nations. His work has appeared in The American Economic Review, The Review of Economics and Statistics, the Journal of International Economics, and World Economy. Bradford's IIE publications include Has Globalization Gone Far Enough? (2004), a book co-authored with Robert Lawrence; "The Payoff to America from Global Integration" (2005), a book chapter co-authored with Paul L.E. Grieco and Gary C. Hufbauer; and "Negotiating the Korea-United States Free Trade Agreement" (2006), a policy brief co-authored with Jeffrey Schott and Thomas Moll. Bradford joined BYU as a Visiting Instructor in 1997 and became Assistant Professor in 1998 and Associate Professor in 2005. He worked at IIE as a Visiting Fellow during the 2005-2006 academic year. He lived in Japan for a year and a half as a missionary for the LDS Church and for three months as an intern for the Japan International Cooperation Agency. He has a physics BA from Brigham Young University, an MPA from Princeton University, and a PhD in Political Economy from Harvard.

Burghardt, Raymond: Raymond Burghardt recently retired U.S. Ambassador to Vietnam, joined the East-West Center in January 2005 as the Director of East-West Seminars. He is the highest-ranking diplomat to join the Center since the 1960s. In February 2006, the Board of Trustees of the American Institute in Taiwan (AIT) named Ambassador Burghardt Chairman of the AIT board. Burghardt holds the AIT position concurrently with his position at the East-West Center. AIT is a private corporation established in 1979 to manage U.S. relations with Taiwan in the absence of formal diplomatic ties. Ambassador Burghardt served as the Ambassador to Vietnam from 2001- September 2004. He was formerly the Director of the American Institute in Taiwan (AIT) from 1999-2001. He previously served as American Consul General in Shanghai (1997-1999), as Deputy Chief of Mission at the U.S. Embassies in Manila (1993-96) and Seoul (1990-93), and as Political Counselor in Beijing (1987-89). During the first six months of the Clinton Administration in 1993, Ambassador Burghardt served as Charge d' Affaires at the U. S. Embassy in Seoul. Ambassador Burghardt's previous positions also have included an assignment on the National Security Council staff as Special Assistant to President Reagan and Senior Director of Latin American Affairs. He also served at the U.S. Embassies in Honduras and Guatemala. He was a Peace Corps Volunteer in Colombia before joining the Foreign Service. Ambassador Burghardt received a B.A. from Columbia College in 1967 and did graduate study at Columbia's School of International and Public Affairs. He speaks Vietnamese, Mandarin Chinese and Spanish.

Davis, Elizabeth Van Wie: Elizabeth Van Vie Davis is a Professor at the Asia Pacific Center for Security Studies, where she focuses on Chinese domestic, foreign, and defense policies. Her work includes looking at China's role in the international community and in the Asia Pacific region. This involves looking at US-China relations, Chinese foreign policy, the security environment in Northeast Asia, and the development of China's domestic agenda. The rapid modernization of China has increased its global influence at an impressive pace. However, this reemerging China faces the dilemma of how to cope with domestic challenges, the international system, the Asia-Pacific region and the United States. Coming to the Asia-Pacific Center from Johns Hopkins University's, SAIS, Center in Nanjing, China, Dr. Davis was the Fei Yi-Ming Professor of Politics from 1998 to 2000. There she was responsible for conducting research and taught graduate classes on U.S.-China relations as well as international law and politics. Previously Dr. Davis held appointments at other universities. Dr. Davis holds a Ph.D. and M.A. in Foreign Affairs from the University of Virginia. While engaged in graduate studies, she conducted research at Beijing University, China, and completed Chinese language courses at Harvard University. Educated in the University of Chicago's Great Books program at Shimer College and Oxford University, she received her B.A. from Shimer College and completed economics courses at Harvard University and diplomacy courses at the Fletcher School of Law & Diplomacy. Dr. Davis's recent book publications include Islam, Oil and Geopolitics (2006), Chinese Perspectives on Sino-American Relations (2000) and China and the Law of the Sea Convention (1995). Her articles have appeared in numerous journals around the world, including Asian Affairs, The Journal of East Asian Politics, World Environment Quarterly, Encyclopedia of Modern Asia, and Journal of Contemporary Asia.

Fargo, Thomas Boulton: Admiral Thomas B. Fargo, USN (Ret.), former Commander of the U.S. Pacific Command, serves as President of Trex Enterprises Corporation, a privately-held high-technology company. Admiral Fargo also serves as Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Loea Corporation, a high-bandwidth wireless communications company, and as Chairman of Sago Systems, Inc, a defense and homeland security company developing state-of-the-art technologies; both are subsidiaries of Trex Enterprises. Admiral Fargo joined Trex Enterprises on March 28, 2005, after a distinguished career serving the U.S. Navy and the Department of Defense. He was the twentieth officer to hold the position of Commander of the U.S. Pacific Command. As the senior U.S. military commander in East Asia, the Pacific and Indian Ocean areas, he led the largest unified command while directing the joint operations of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force across 100 million miles. He was responsible to the President and the Secretary of Defense, and was the U.S. military representative for collective defense arrangements in the Pacific. Admiral Fargo also served as the 29th Commander-in-Chief of the U.S. Pacific Fleet from October 1999 to May 2002. His service as a leader in the Pacific was preceded by his command of the U.S. Fifth Fleet and Naval Forces of the Central Command during two years of Iraqi contingency operations from July 1996 to July 1998. His 35 years of service included six assignments in Washington, DC, in addition to five commands in the Pacific, Indian Ocean, and Middle East. Born in San Diego, CA, he attended high school in Coronado, CA, and Sasebo, Japan. Admiral Fargo graduated from the United States Naval Academy in June 1970. He is a 1989 recipient of the Vice Admiral James Bond Stockdale Award for Inspirational Leadership. Admiral Fargo is based out of Trex's Honolulu, Hawaii, office. In addition to his work at Trex, he serves on the Boards of Directors for Hawaiian Electric Industries, Hawaiian Airlines, and USAA. He is active in the community, serving on the Board of Directors of the Japan-America Society of Hawaii, the Iolani School Board of Governors, and the Hawaii Pacific University Board of Trustees. He is the National Vice Chairman of the Pearl Harbor Memorial Fund.

Fouse, David: Dr. David Fouse joined the Asia Pacific Center for Security Studies as a Research Fellow in December 2002. His research interests are in Northeast Asian security issues with a special focus on Japan. His doctoral dissertation focused upon the development of postwar Japanese security issues, Japanese domestic politics and United States-Japan bilateral relations. Prior to joining the center Dr. Fouse taught various courses at the University of Hawaii. Dr. Fouse received both his Ph.D. and M.A. in political science from the University of Hawaii, and a B.A. in political science at the California Polytechnic University at Pomona. At the University of Hawaii Dr. Fouse was a Research Assistant for the School of Hawaiian, Asian, and Pacific Studies and participated in the Japan-United States Hawaii Conference on the Future of Security in Northeast Asia in 1991. While working to complete his Ph.D. at the University of Hawaii Dr. Fouse received a research grant for fieldwork from the Japanese Ministry of Education in 1996. Dr. Fouse ended up staying in Japan for 5 years and completed a Ph.D. in applied statistical science at the Graduate University for Advanced Studies in Tokyo, Japan. During this time Dr. Fouse participated in several nation-wide surveys of Japanese values carried out by the Institute of Statistical Mathematics in Tokyo and translated reports of these surveys into English. Dr. Fouse has recently published an article on the effects of economic stagnation in Japan on support for democratic values in the journal Behaviormetrika. His recent APCSS publications have dealt with Japan's ongoing debate over development of a missile defense system, Japan's China Debate, and Japanese policy toward North Korea in the post Cold War era. Dr. Fouse is a member of the Japan Political Studies Group of the American Political Science Association and the Behaviormetric Society of Japan.

Hyun, Kwang On: Retired Major General, Hyun, Kwang-On is currently the Vice Chairman of the Council on Korea-U.S. Security Studies. He was the Director of Planning and Coordination Department, the Korean Veterans Association from 2000-2003. He worked in LG Precision Co., Ltd, as a Senior Vice President from 1996-2000, after successful military career of the ROK Army. The last period of his military career, general Hyun served as the Deputy ACofS, C-3, ROK-US Combined Forces Command from 1991-1994. He also served as the Executive Officer to the Minister of National Defense from 1989-1990, from 1988-1989 he served as the Chief of Staff, ROK Defense Security Agency, and from 1986-1987 he served as the Chief of the Intelligence Department, ROK Defense Intelligence Agency. From 1983-1984 general Hyun commanded the 5th Field Artillery Group in 5thROK Corps. His awards include the Order of Military Merit Inheon Medal, the Order of National Security Merit Chunsu Medal, and the US Legion of Merit. General Hyun received M.A. in Public Administration from Hanyang University in 1991 and in 1965 he graduated from the Korean Military Academy.

Jeong, Dong-Keun: Dr. Jeong is currently a professor in the Department of Economics and has served as faculty director of the Learning Resource Center at North Carolina A&T State University (A&T). Dr. Jeong was educated at Kyung-Puk National University (Taegu, Korea), University of Hawaii, Columbia University, and Wayne State University. He was a recipient of the prestigious East-West Center Scholarship for the years 1964-66. The Honorable Jesse L Jackson, Jr., U.S. Congressman, Second Congressional District of Chicago, in the JET Magazine (June 1993), credits Dr Jeong with being his mentor, and also stated in his recent autobiography, A More Perfect Union: Advancing American New Rights, "professor Dong-Kuen Jeong influenced me greatly" at A&T. Dr. Jeong has served as a visiting professor at the University of Hawaii during summers of 1984, 1986, 1988 and 1991. He has also served as Secretary-General of the Korea-America Economic Association (KAEA) and its Vice-President in 1993 and 1997, respectively. He received the School of Business and Economics' Teacher of the Year Award in 1997 at A&T. He is currently President-elect (2008-2009) of the Carolina International Cultural Council (CICC). He has published numerous articles dealing with economic issues of the East-Asian Countries and the United States. His latest article, with Dr. Youn-Suk Kim, "Prospects for East Asian Monetary Agreements", was published in The Journal of East Asian Affairs (2005). He is currently engaged in a study titled "GARCH Modeling of the Volatility of the East Asian Financial Market" with Dr. Krishna Kasibhatla, a colleague at A&T.

Kang, Dae-Hyun: Date of Birth : 20 February 1952 (Sex : Male); Place of Birth : Southern KyungSang Province, ROK. Education & Study: - Pusan High School (71) / Seoul National University (Western History, 76) - Stanford University (Asia Pacific Research Center / IIS, 93-95). Professional Career: '79: joined Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Trade (MOFAT); '79-'82: assistant Director, Passport Div & Information Div & Southeast Asia Div / MOFAT; '82-'85: Second Secretary, Korean Embassy / Malaysia; '85-'88: assistant Director, China Div & Japan Div / MOFAT; '88-'91: First Secretary, Korean Embassy / Japan; '91-'93: Deputy Director, Southeast Asia Div & East Asian Trade Div / MOFAT; '93-'95: Korean Consulate General (Study) / San Francisco, USA; '95-'97: Counselor, Korean Embassy / India; '97-'98: Director, Foreign Language Training Div / MOFAT; '98-'99: Director, South Asia and Oceania Div / MOFAT; '99-'02: Counselor, Korean Embassy / Italy; '02-'03: Senior Coordinator, Planning and Management Office/ MOFAT; '03-'05: Special Adviser, Committee on Unification, Foreign Affairs & Trade / National Assembly; Sep '05- : Consul General, Korean Consulate General / Honolulu, Hawaii USA. Family: Married with two sons.

Kihl, Young Whan: Dr. Kihl is Professor of Political Science emeritus at Iowa State University, Ames. A recent recipient of the 2005 Regents Faculty Excellence Award, from the State of Iowa, and the 2005 Global Korea Award, from Michigan State University, Kihl currently serves as Editor-in-Chief to International Journal of Korean Studies and contributing editor to Korea Journal (a publication of Korean National Commission for UNESCO, Seoul). He was on editorial board of the Journal of Asian Studies, 1993-1997, and on editorial advisory board of International Studies Quarterly, 1999-2004. Kihl received B.A. degree (1959), in political science and economics, from Grinnell College and both M.A. (1960) and Ph.D. (1963) degrees in politics from New York University. Kihl was a distinguished visiting professor at Yonsei University Graduate School of International Studies (1997), an exchange professor in residence at the Sejong Institute (1998), and the Fulbright Professor at Ewha Woman's University Graduate School of International Studies (1999), all of them in South Korea. He was a visiting POSCO fellow at the East-West Center, June-August 2006, working on a project of Building an East Asian Regional Order: Testing of Propositions, 2006. Kihl has written a number of books on Asian security and Korean politics. Included in the list of his most recent books are: North Korea: The Politics of Regime Survival (coeditor with Hong N. Kim, 2006), Transforming Korean Politics: Democracy, Reform, and Culture (2005), Peace and Security in Northeast Asia: The Nuclear Issue and the Korean Peninsula (coeditor, with Peter Hayes, 1997), and Korea and the World: Beyond the Cold War (editor, 1994) selected by CHOICE as an outstanding academic book. Kihl's recently published articles include: "Security on the Korean Peninsula: Continuity and Change." Security Dialogue 33, 1 (March, 2002): 59-72; "The Kim Jong-Il Government's Policy toward South Korea: Analysis of the June 2005 Inter-Korean Agreement." International Journal of Korean Studies X, 1 (Spring/ Summer, 2006): 1-36. Direct inquiries to: ykihl@iastate.edu, 480-961-9467, 602-510-7363 (HP).

Kim, Choong Nam: Kim Choong Nam (kimcn@eastwestcenter.org) is Coordinator for POSCO Fellowships Program at the East-West Center, Honolulu, Hawaii. From 1997 to 2000 he was a visiting fellow at the East-West Center. From 1994 to 1996 he was Assistant for Public Relations for President Kim Young Sam. From 1991 to 1993 and from 1984 to 1990 he was Assistant for Political Affairs for Presidents Chun Doo Hwan and Roh Tae Woo. From 1996 to 1997 he was Research Professor at the Institute of Foreign Affairs and National Security. From 1969 to 1983, he was an instructor, an assistant professor, and an associate professor at Korea Military Academy. He had been a member of Advisory Board, the Asia-Pacific Center of the RAND Corporation from 1989 to 2000. He received his B.S. degree from the Korea Military Academy, his B.A. and M.A. degrees from Seoul National University, and his Ph.D. degree in political science from the University of Minnesota in 1978. He has been awarded the Order of National Security Merit, Samil and Order of Civil Service Merit, Red Stripes, from the Government of Korea. He has also been awarded the Medal of Distinguished Alumni from the University of Minnesota. He is the author of, among others, Presidents and National Management (2006 in Korean), A Changing Korea in Regional and Global Context (coed., 2004), Korea and the Asia-Pacific Region (coed., 2001) Successful Presidents, Unsuccessful Presidents, Revised Edition (1998 in Korean), Successful Presidents, Unsuccessful Presidents (1992 in Korean), Political Socialization and Political Education in Korea (1982 in Korean), and Leadership for Nation Building: Korean Presidents from Syngman Rhee to Kim Dae Jung (forthcoming). He has contributed numerous articles on Korean politics, Political Leadership, U.S.-Korea relations and Northeast Asian security.

Kim, Hong Nack: Kim, Hong Nack (Ph.D., Georgetown University) is Professor of Political Science at West Virginia University. Dr. Kim was a visiting Fulbright fellow at Keio University (1979, 1982) and Fulbright Professor of Political Science at Seoul National University during the academic year 1990-1991. After graduating from Seoul National University (B.A. in Political Science), he has received M.A. and Ph.D. degrees (Political Science) from Georgetown University (1960, 1965). From 1983 to 1985, he served as the president of the Association of Korean Political Scientists in North America. Formerly editor of Asian Forum and Asia Pacific Review, he has written widely on East Asian affairs, contributing articles to such journals as Asian Survey, Pacific Affairs, Current History, World Politics, Keio Journal of Politics, International Journal of Korean Studies, Asia Quarterly, Asian Affairs: An American Review, World Affairs, Journal of Northeast Asian Studies, Korea and World Affairs, Korea Observer and Problem of Communism. In addition, he has contributed several articles to Collier's Encyclopedia Yearbook (1978, 1979, 1989, 1990) and 1981 Yearbook on International Communist Affairs (Hoover Institution Press). He is co-editor of Korean Reunification: New Perspectives and Approaches (1984); Perspectives on Inter-Korean Relations (1987); and Korea and Major Powers after the Seoul Olympics (1989). In 1986, he received an Outstanding Research Award from the College of Arts and Science, West Virginia University. Some of his recent publications include Japanese-Korean Relations in the 1990s (Occasional Paper series) published by Woodrow Wilson Center for International Scholars (1994); and "Japan in North Korea's Foreign Relations," in Samuel Kim (ed.), North Korean Foreign Relations in the Post-Cold War Era (Oxford University Press, 1998). He is also the author of "South Korea's Foreign Relations under the Kim Dae-Jung Government" in Kongdan Oh (ed.), Korea Briefing 1997-1999 (New York: Asia Society) (Forthcoming). He was a visiting POSCO Fellow at East-West Center, Honolulu, in the fall semester of 2005. One of his most recent publications is North Korea: Politics of Regime Survival (M.E. Sharpe, 2006) (co-editor: Young Whan Kihl).

Kim, Hugo Wheegook: Dr. Kim is President and Founder of the East-West Research Institute in Washington, DC and currently serving as an Editor of the International Journal of Korean Studies (IJKS). Dr. Kim received a B.S. from the Korea Military Academy in Seoul, South Korea in 1966, and graduated from the Korean Army Commander and Staff College. He earned his M.A. and Ph.D. in Economics from the Catholic University of America in Washington, DC. During his active duty, he experienced various positions in the Korean Army, and retired as a Professor of the Korea National Defense University in Seoul and moved to the United States. Teaching at the Southeastern University during 1989-1991, he participated in research activities as an Adjunct Fellow at the CSIS during 1994-1999. Dr. Kim is interested in political economy and strategic studies, and his articles published in academic journals: "A Historical Overview of the Immigration to the United States and Political Participation of Asian Americans" (2003), "Did South Korea Choose the Best Growth Strategy and Will North Korea Follow the Lessons from the South?" (2002), "Regional Integration and Inter-Korean Economic Cooperation" (2002), "From Confrontation to Cooperation: A New Paradigm for Inter-Korean Relations" (1999), "Democratization and Economic Development in South Korea" (1998), "The Impact of Sino-American Relations on Korean Unification" (1997), and "Problems and Remedies of the North Korean Economy" (1996). He published three books: Korean Americans and Inter-Korean Relations of 2003, Towards the Land of Hope: South Korea Viewed from Washington of 1998, and Mobilization and Industrial Potential for War: A Case Study of the Republic of Korea (co-authored) of 1987. E-mail: hugo33kim@verizon.net

Kim, Hyun Ki: @ Education: 1987 Aberdeen Univ. UK(Ph.D., International Politics); 1984 Aberdeen Univ. UK (M.Litt., International Politics); 1982 National Defense Univ. Korea (M.A., National Security); 1969 Naval Academy, Korea (B.S.). @ Military Education: 1979 Command & Staff College (Extension), USMC; 1976 Personnel Management Course (Extension), USMC; 1978 Amphibious Warfare School, USMC; 1976 Naval Amphibious Training Course, Korea; 1972 The Basic School, USMC. @ Careers: President, Military Journal Monthly (Present); Vice President of Korea Association of Military Studies (Present); Director, Korea Institute for maritime Strategy (Present); Director, Korea Institute for marine Corps Strategy (Present); Sept. '98 Full Colonel Retired; '87-'98 Prof., Military Strategy, National Defense Univ.; '95-'97 Director of Planning & Controlling Dept., National Defense Univ.; '95 Director of Education & Student Affairs, National Defense Univ.; '91 Visiting Professor, The Wales Univ., Aberystwyth, UK; '79 -'80 Instructor, Naval Staff College, Korea. @ Major Research Interests: International Relations and War; History of War; Military and Maritime Strategies; and Politics and Strategy of Northeast Asia

Kim, Jae-Chang: General(R) Kim, Jae Chang had served in the Korean Army for 32 years until he was retired from active service in April 1994. His major assignments include commanding general of 9th Infantry Division, Director of Operations in Joint Chiefs of Staff, Commanding General of 6th Corps, Assistant Minister for Policy, Vice Chairman of Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Deputy Commander in Chief of the ROK-US Combined Forces Command. He graduated from the United States Naval Postgraduate School, majoring Operations Research and System Analysis, and got the degree of Master of Science in March 1976. After his retirement, he studied in the

Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy in Boston, majoring International Relations, and got the degree of Master of Arts in Law and Diplomacy (MALD) on May 17, 1998 and the degree of Ph.D. on November 2, 2002. From November 1999 to December 2001, he served as the Chairman of the Committee for the Defense Systems Reform, Ministry of National Defense. In April, 2003, he assumed the position of co-chairman of the Council on ROK-US Security Studies. He teaches students at the Graduate School of International Studies, Yonsei University, as a visiting professor. Recently, he published a strategic book, The Philosophy of Chinese Military Culture: Shih vs. Li (New York: Palgrave Macmillan, 2006) as a co-author with Dr. William Mott, Emerson College, Boston. Address: Rm # 430, War Museum, Yongsan-Dong Yongsan-Ku, Seoul Korea; (02) 748-2990; jckim6418@yahoo.co.kr

Kim, Ji-Yub (Jay): Dr. Kim is Assistant Professor of Management and Organization at the Marshall School of Business, University of Southern California. He received his doctorate in Strategic Management and Organization Theory from University of Wisconsin-Madison. His current research focuses on organizational learning, mergers and acquisitions, interfirm collaboration, technology management, and corporate fraud. @Education: PhD, Strategic Management & Organization Theory, Sociology, University of Wisconsin, 2000; MBA, Strategy & Finance Concentration University of Michigan, School of Business Administration, 1994; BS, Mechanical Engineering, School of Engineering, Yonsei University, 1991. @Research Interests: □ Organizational Learning □ Commercial Banking & Financial Service Industry □ Business Fraud □ Digital Interactive Software Industry □ Mergers & Acquisitions □ Organizational Capability & Knowledge □ Strategic Alliance & Network □ Technology Management.

Kim, Jinha: received B.A. and M.A. for Political Science at Sogang University in Korea. He also received M.S. for Public Policy at University of Rochester. He was granted Ph.D. for political science at Northwestern University in 2003. His doctoral dissertation was "Class Politics Resurgent: Class-Based Voting, Turnout, and Party Identification." He had been a Research Fellow in the Institute for Policy Research at Northwestern University from 1997 to 2003. He taught various courses such as "American Politics", "Congress and Political Party", and "Election and Congress" at Korean Universities; Sungkyunkwan University, Ajou University, Kyung Hee University, and The Catholic University of Korea. Since 2004, he has taught American Politics courses at Keimyung University in Korea. He is an assistant professor in the department of American Studies at Keimyung University. He is also a director of the Center for Student Development at Keimyung University. Dr. Jinha Kim is interested in Korean politics as well as American politics. His research interests are class, election, cleavages, public opinion, and institutions such as political parties, presidency, and congress. He wrote couples of Korean articles about American politics. He also wrote several articles about Korean politics; election and regionalism, primary election reform, national competitiveness and so on.

Kim, Sunwoong: Dr. Kim is a Professor of Economics at the University of Wisconsin -Milwaukee. He is a specialist in urban and human resources economics. He is also interested in political economy and development in East Asian countries. He obtained Ph.D. in Economics and Urban Planning from MIT, Master of City and Regional Planning from Harvard, and Bachelor of Architecture and Master of Environmental Planning from Seoul National University. He has published articles in well known professional journals including American Economic Review, Journal of Political Economy, The Review of Economics and Statistics, Journal of Urban Economics, Journal of Regional Science, European Journal of Political Research, Japanese Journal of Political Science, Asian Survey, Party Politics, Journal of Development Studies, Regional Science and Urban Economics, Journal of Housing Economics, Journal of Housing Research, and Social Science Quarterly. He has been serving as the Co-Editor of International Economic Journal since 2003.

Kim, Steven: Dr. Steven Kim is a professor at the Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies. He focuses on Korean peninsular issues including US-South Korean relations, inter-Korean relations, South Korean politics and culture, and Northeast Asian security; as well as, democratization and governance in developing countries. His publications include Resolving the North Korean Nuclear Problem: Status Quo vs. Transformative Approach, ROK's Nuclear Experiments: A Successful Case of Alliance Management, A Cultural Analysis of Democracy and Its Implications for Korean Democratization, Deuniversalizing Human Rights, Democracy and Asian Values, and The Korean Political Culture in Conflict: Hierarchy vs. Individualism. Dr. Kim was formerly a Research Fellow at the Sejong Institute in South Korea. He received his B.A. and Ph.D. from University of California, Berkeley and M.A. from Seoul National University in Political Science.

Kim, Young Chul: Dr. Kim is a Senior Fellow at the Korean Educational Development Institute(KEDI) in Seoul, Korea. He started KEDI life in 1972, when the organization was established. He was Director-General of Educational Policy Research Department and Planning Office at the KEDI. He obtained Ph.D. in economics of education from the Florida State University (1979), Master of educational administration and Bachelor of education from the Korea University. Dr. Kim was a visiting professor at the University of Wisconsin-Madison and visiting scholar at the International Institute for Educational Planning (IIEP /UNESCO). He was president of the Korean Society for the Economics and Finance of Education. He was a member of Committee on Educational Policy and Committee on Deregulation in Education of the Ministry of Education & Human Resource Development. His publications are School System (1986), Educational Reform Trend in Major Countries (1986), Economics and Finance of Education (1988), and Educational Reform (2003). He has been awarded the Order of National Service Merit, Mokryun (2003) and the Medal of National Service Merit (1982).

Kim, Youn-Suk: Dr. Kim is Professor of Economics at Kean University. Professor Kim received B.A. degree in Business Administration from Seoul National University, and M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in economics from the New School University. Dr. Kim is chairman of International Council on Korean Studies and also served as the president of two academic international organizations, the Korea-America Economic Association and Korean American University Professors Association. He is an editor of International Journal of Korean Studies, a member of editorial board of Human System Management, and a new executive editor of Journal of Asian Economics. Dr. Kim was Visiting Professor at Seoul National University and Invited Professor at Graduate School of International Relations, Hankuk University of Foreign Studies. Professor Kim authored or co-edited Japanese Economy (2002), The IMF Program and Korean Industrial Economy (2001), Economics of the Triad: Conflicts and Congruence of the U.S.A., Japan and Korea (1997), Korea's New Economics (1998), Vision of Korea's Economy in the 21st Century (1996), U.S.-Korea Economic Partnership (1995), and Japanese Foreign Trade and Its Impact on Economy (1992). Professor Kim contributed seventy-six journal articles including "Rationale for an Asian Monetary Fund" (2002), "The East Asian Perspectives in Changing Global Economy" (2002), "The Japanese Recession and Korea" (2002), "The IMF Policy and Its Effects on Korean Chaebols" (2001), "The Korean Crisis-A Year After" (1999), and "Asia's Contagious Financial Crisis and Its Impact on Korea" (1999).

Kriekhaus, Jonathan T.: Jonathan "Vanya" Kriekhaus (Ph.D. Princeton, 2000) is Associate Professor at the University of Missouri. His recent book, Dictating Development: How Europe Shaped the Global Periphery (Pittsburgh, 2006) argues that colonial legacies on human capital and state structures heavily influenced comparative economic performance around the globe over the last fifty years. In addition, foreign states shaped development through global market shocks, international warfare, and foreign aid. His two articles in the British Journal of Political Science (2004, 2006) explore how political democracy influences comparative economic growth. In other research, he argues that public savings constitute an important and overlooked basis for economic growth (World Development, 2002). Kriekhaus' current project is a book exploring whether international capital flows react to-and constrain-domestic politics and policies in developing countries.

Lee, Kap Yun: Dr. Lee is Professor of Political Science at College of Social Science of Sogang University in Seoul, Korea. Professor Lee graduated Yale University with Ph. D. in Political Science. He was President of Korean Rational Choice Society (1998-2000) and Vice-president of Korean Association of International Studies (2003-4) and is currently Chairman of Sogang Institute of Political Research. Professor Lee's research interests include political process, political parties, electoral system and party system, voting behavior and Korean and Japanese politics. He is author of Regionalism and Korean Election (1998, Oreum) and "Vote Determinants of the 16th Presidential Election in Korea"(2002, Korea Journal).

Lee, Keun Woo: Dr. Lee is a visiting fellow at the East West Center, USA from the Ministry of Education and Human Resources Development of Korea. He is conducting research on the quality of higher education and ways to improve university assessment methodologies and systems. Dr. Lee was formerly Director General at the Andong National University in South Korea. He received his Ph.D. from University of Texas, Austin in educational administration, and M.A. from Sung-Kyun-Kwan University in public administration, and B.A. from the same university in education.

Lee, Young: Young Lee is an Associate Professor at Hanyang University in Seoul, Korea. He received BA from Seoul National University in 1987, and PhD from University of Michigan in 1998, both in Economics.

After graduating from University of Michigan, he worked as a faculty research associate at IRIS, Department of Economics, University of Maryland from 1998 to 2000. At IRIS, he mainly worked on issues about economic development, providing technical assistance to several developing countries. Returning to Korea in 2000, he joined KDI. As a research fellow at KDI, he mainly worked on education finance and reform in Korea. He joined Hanyang University in 2002. His major research interests include the effects of taxes on corporate finance, determinants of economic growth, and education finance. His works have appeared in Journal of Public Economics, National Tax Journal, International Tax and Public Finance, Journal of Development Economics, Economic Inquiry, and Journal of Comparative Economics.

Mansourov, Alexandre Y.: Alexandre Y. Mansourov is a specialist in Northeast Asian security, politics, and economics, focusing primarily on the Korean peninsula. He joined the faculty of the College of Security Studies in October 2001. Dr. Mansourov received his Ph.D. in Political Science from Columbia University in New York, B.A. in International Relations from the Moscow State Institute of International Relations (MGIMO) in Moscow, Russia, and Advanced Diploma in Korean studies from the Kim Il Sung National University in Pyongyang, DPRK. He has broad research interests ranging from the defense, foreign and domestic policies of two Korean states, to comparative political and economic development in Northeast Asia, proliferation of WMD, energy security, IT revolution, and the impact of RMA on security dynamics in Northeast Asia. Dr. Mansourov edited three books, including “Bytes and Bullets: Information Technology Revolution and National Security on the Korean Peninsula” (APCSS, 2005), “A Turning Point: Democratic Consolidation in the ROK and Strategic Readjustment in the US-ROK Alliance” (APCSS, 2005), and “The North Korean Nuclear Program: Security, Strategy, and New Perspectives from Russia” (together with Dr. Clay J. Moltz, Routledge Press: New York, 2000). He also contributed numerous chapters to books and published dozens of academic articles on Korean and Northeast Asian affairs in the English, Korean, Chinese, Japanese, and Russian-language press, including The Cold War International History Bulletin, The Journal of Chinese Academy of Social Sciences, The Washington Journal of Modern China, The Journal of East Asian Affairs, The Korean Journal of Defense Analysis, The Journal of National Security Affairs - KNDU Review, Korea Observer, Korea and World Affairs, The International Journal of Korean Unification Studies, KORUS Forum, The Washington Post, The International Herald Tribune, The Hankyoreh Shinmun, The Asahi Shimbun, The Iomiuri Shimbun, The Sankei Shimbun, The Dong-A Ilbo, The Chosun Ilbo, The Korea Herald, The Moscow Times, etc. Prior to joining the Asia-Pacific Center, Dr. Mansourov held a Visiting Fellowship at the Center for Northeast Asia Policy Studies at the Brookings Institution in Washington, D.C. In 1997-1999, he worked as a Research Associate at the Korea Institute at Harvard University. In the mid-1990s, he taught lecture and seminar courses on Korean Foreign Policy and Foreign Relations, Korean Civilization, Korean History, Korean Domestic Politics at Columbia University and at the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts University.

Morgan, Patrick M.: Professor Morgan earned his B.A. from Harpur College (now SUNY Binghamton) and his M.A. and Ph.D. from Yale University. He is currently a professor and the Tierney Chair in the Political Science Department at the University of California, Irvine. His past positions include Director of the Global Peace and Conflict Studies Program during 1992-1997 and its Acting Director during 1999-2000, and Director of the Global Peace and Conflict Studies Center from 2000 to 2001. Professor Morgan has also been acknowledged with the following distinctions: 1973-1974 Fellow- Wilson Center, Washington, DC; 1985 Fulbright- Catholic University, Leuven, Belgium; 1988-1989 Vice President-International Studies Association; 1997 Fellowship- Rockefeller Center, Bellagio, Italy. He has a Fulbright to Renmin University in Beijing in 2002. Professor Morgan has concentrated his research primarily on national and international security matters - deterrence theory, strategic surprise attack, arms control, and related subjects. He has also had a long standing interest in theoretical approaches to the study of international politics. Currently he is involved in projects on the theory and practice of deterrence in the post-Cold War era, security strategies for global security management, and security in Northeast Asia. His latest major publications are Deterrence Now (Cambridge University Press, 2003) and International Security: Problems and Solutions (CQ Press, 2006).

Morrison, Charles E.: Charles E. Morrison has been president of the Center since August 1, 1998. He has had extensive involvement in the conceptualization, organization and funding of policy-oriented educational research and dialogue projects in both Japan and the United States, and has long been involved in promoting the concept of Asia Pacific community. In September 2005, he was elected international chair of the Pacific Economic Cooperation Council (PECC). He is a founding member of the U.S. Asia Pacific Council, the U.S. National Committee for Pacific Economic Cooperation and a member of the U.S. Committee for Security Cooperation in Asia Pacific. He is a past chair of the U.S. National Consortium of APEC Study Centers. A former director of the Center's Program on International Economics and Politics, he is a former U.S. Senate aide and a research adviser to binational Japan-U.S. commissions. He holds a Ph.D. in international relations from Johns Hopkins School of Advanced International Studies. Publications in recent years include: Japan, ASEAN, and East Asia from an American Perspective. Community Building with Pacific Asia (report to the Trilateral Commission). ASEAN: Forum, Caucus & Community. Asia Pacific Crossroads: Regime Creation and the Future of APEC. Development Cooperation in the 21st Century: Implications for APEC. Asia Pacific Security Outlook: 2005 (annually from 1997).

Noerper, Stephen E.: Dr. Steve Noerper is a senior professor at New York University's Center for Global Affairs. He teaches on modern Korean security and international relations and appears widely in media and at international conference events. He has served on Korean issues with the US State Department, a Georgetown-based international relations firm, and as director of Washington programs for the Nautilus Institute. He has taught graduate and professional classes on Korea at American University, Waseda University, the National University of Mongolia and the Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies. Dr. Noerper has served as a Fulbright Senior Scholar and foundation director in Asia. He is a graduate of the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy and London School of Economics.

Paik, Soon: Dr. Soon Paik is a Senior Economist of the U.S. Department of Labor - Bureau of Labor Statistics. He taught economics, econometrics, statistics, and management at the University of District of Columbia as an Associate Professor. He worked as a project developer of the Construction Labor Demand System in the Tennessee Valley Authority, Knoxville, Tennessee, and as an Associate Director of the Construction Resources Analysis and a Research Professor of the University of Tennessee. He serves as a Senior Economic Consultant of the United Nations Development Programme for the Taebaek Iron Development Project in the Republic of Korea. He graduated from the Law College of the Seoul National University (LLD), and obtained M.A. degrees in economics from the Korea University and from the Ohio University and a Ph.D. in economics from the West Virginia University. His major interests are in the international economics, South and North Korean economies, economic issues of the Korean unification, resources and labor economics, economic model-building, statistical analysis, etc. He published numerous professional articles in the various academic journals, and led many seminars and paper presentations in the professional societies including American Economic Association, American Statistical Association, etc., on the subjects concerning international economics, South and North Korean economies, energy economics, construction economics, international labor economics, etc. He has been working as an economic columnist of the Chosun Ilbo Washington and of the KNN radio. He served as a Vice President of the Korean American Economic Association and as a President of the Korean Economic Society in Washington, D.C. His civic activities included a President of the Knoxville Korean Association, a President of the Seoul National University Alumni Association in Washington, D.C. He has been serving as a Ruling Elder of the Korean Central Presbyterian Church, Vienna, VA.

Park, Yoon-shik: Dr. Yoon-shik Park is currently Professor of International Banking & Finance at The George Washington University in Washington, D.C. In addition to George Washington University, he also taught at Georgetown University and Columbia University. Among his many publications are five books: Project Financing and International Financial Markets (1999), International Banking and Financial Centers (1989), International Banking in Theory and Practice (1984), Oil Money and the World Economy (1976), and the Eurobond Market: Function and Structure (1974), in addition to many articles and reports in the fields of international banking and finance. Before joining the academia, he started to work for the World Bank in Washington in 1970, first as a Young Professional and later as a Senior Economist. Currently, Dr. Park is a member of the boards of directors of both Samsung Corporation in Korea and the Korea Economic Institute of America, Inc. Dr. Park has been a consultant to the World Bank, Asian Development Bank, International Finance Corporation (IFC), Inter-American Development Bank, U.S. Agency for International Development (AID), U.S. Federal Reserve, Overseas Private Investment Corporation (OPIC), U.S. Export-Import Bank, and numerous other private and public institutions around the world. Prof. Park has two doctorate degrees: Doctor of Business Administration (DBA) in International Finance from Harvard University Graduate School of Business Administration and Ph.D. in Economics from George Washington University, in addition to his MA in economics and MBA in finance.

Pastreich, Emanuel Yi: Emanuel Pastreich is an assistant professor of Japanese Studies at Parkland College in Champaign, Illinois. Emanuel has written extensively on the history, thought and literature of Korea, China and Japan. Most of his work has concerned the intellectual, cultural and political relations between Korea, China and Japan from the seventeenth century through the twentieth century. Emanuel's forthcoming book focuses on the reception of Chinese vernacular narrative in Korea and Japan. More recently, he has written on globalization and social change, the internet, Taiwan Straits issues, Chinese-American relations, and North Korea. Emanuel has made an effort to interpret recent developments in Asia in light of precedents from the early modern and pre-modern period. Emanuel graduated from Yale College in the major of Chinese Language and Literature in 1987. He spent his junior year abroad at National Taiwan University taking courses in Chinese literature and culture. Emanuel went on to receive an M.A. in Comparative Culture from University of Tokyo in 1992 for which he wrote a thesis in Japanese. He received a Ph.D. in East Asian Languages and Civilizations from Harvard University in 1997. In addition, Emanuel conducted research at Seoul National University (1995-96) and at Korea University (1997) in Korean and Chinese studies. He has taught at Harvard University, University of California Berkeley, and the University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign.

Ra, Jong O.: I received my Ph.D. in political science at the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana and have since engaged in teaching and research to date at the University of Illinois, Hollins University, and Virginia Tech. I have published in the area of American government, particularly presidential elections and voting behavior, Korean politics, among others. I am currently John P. Wheeler Professor and Chair of the Department of Political Science at Hollins University and hold a joint appointment in the Department of Political Science at Virginia Tech.

Rhee, Hang Yul: (LL.B., College of Law, Seoul National University; M.A., Graduate Faculties, Columbia University; Ph.D., American University; Post-doctoral Studies, Johns Hopkins University.) Dr. Rhee was awarded the title of Distinguished Professor of International relations at Shepherd University. Currently he is serving as chairman of the Governing Board of International Council of Korean Studies (ICKS) and served as president of the Korean American University Professors Association (KAUPA). He was also president of the Association of Korean Political Studies in North America from 1989-1991. Before embarking on his academic career, he worked as a legal research fellow at The International Bar Association and also at the law firm of Debevoise, Plimpton, Lyons, & Gates in New York City. He has been active in many civic organizations outside of the academic world. He was president of the Korean Student Federation in the United States while attending Columbia University in New York in 1963 and 1964. Since 1964, he has worked in many capacities for the Korean community in the United States. He also contributed many articles and wrote columns for Cho Sun II Bo and Han Kook II Bo of Washington Editions. Dr. Rhee served as an advisor for the Advisory Council for Peaceful Reunification of Korean in the greater Washington, D.C. area since 1984-2002. As a result of his many contributions to the Korean community, he received the Presidential Medal of Honor from the Republic of Korea in 1998. Dr. Rhee started his teaching career at Clark University in Worcester, Massachusetts in 1966 and 1967. He was an assistant professor at Muskingum College in Ohio in 1967 and 1968. While teaching at Shepherd, he also served as a representative and founding member of Faculty and Course Development in International Studies in the state of West Virginia from 1981 through 1996. This resulted in the Governor Award for his effort. He has also received the National Endowment for Humanities Scholarship in 1978. His numerous articles have included contributions to Asian Forum, East Asia Journal, Korean and World Affairs, and Korean Observer. Dr. Rhee specializes in Korean unification issues, development theory and political economics.

Richardson, Harry W.: Harry W. Richardson is the James Irvine Chair of Urban and Regional Planning in the School of Policy, Planning and Development at the University of Southern California. He has published 26 books (some of which are edited) and about 200 research papers. His current research efforts are primarily focused on the economics of terrorism within the CREATE (Center for Risk and Economic Analysis of Terrorism Events) research center at USC. Other research interests include spatial economic modeling, urban transportation, urban sprawl, congestion pricing, Korean reunification and globalization. He was an Overseas Visiting Fellow at Churchill College, Cambridge University in the United Kingdom in Fall 2004 and Spring 2006, and a POSCO Visiting Fellow at the East-West Center in Honolulu in November-December 2006. In 2004 he was awarded the Walter Isard Award for Scholarly Achievement in Regional Science by the Regional Science Association International.

Roehrig, Terence Jr.: Terence Roehrig is an Associate Professor in the National Security Decision Making Department, at the U.S. Naval War College. He received his PhD from the University of Wisconsin-Madison. He is the author of two books, From Deterrence to Engagement: The U.S. Defense Commitment to South Korea (2006) and The Prosecution of Former Military Leaders in Newly Democratic Nations: The Cases of Argentina, Greece, and South Korea (2002) and coeditor of a forthcoming book, Korean Security in a Changing East Asia (2007). He has published articles and book chapters on North Korea's nuclear weapons program, Korean security issues, the U.S.-South Korea alliance, human rights, and transitional justice. Dr. Roehrig is also the current Secretary/Treasurer for the Association of Korean Political Studies.

Ryoo, Jae Kap: Dr. Ryoo is currently a professor emeritus at the College of International Studies of Kyonggi University. He had taught theory of international relations, foreign policy, and security strategy, and retired in February 2007. He was the Dean of the Graduate School of Unification, National Security and Social Welfare in 2000-2002. He is also a board member of the Council on the Korea-U.S. Security Studies. Dr. Ryoo was the past President of the Korean Association of International Studies in 1999 and a professor at the Korea National Defense University (KNDU) from 1980 to 1994 and Korean Military Academy from 1970 to 1974. He was also the Director of Military Research Institute of National Security Affairs at KNDU and a Visiting Professor to the U.S. National Defense University in 1985-1986. He received a B.S. from the Korean Military Academy and B.A and M.A in International Relations from Seoul National University. He also holds M.A and Ph. D. degrees in Political Science from Indiana University. He is the author of some 100 books and articles on war, peace, strategy and diplomacy, South-North Korean relations and unification issues, and Korea-U.S. security relations.

Shin, Eui Hang (Ken): Dr. Shin is Professor in the Department of Sociology, University of South Carolina, Columbia, South Carolina. He is Visiting Professor, Faculty of Liberal Education, Seoul, National University, Seoul, Korea for the 2006-2007 academic year. His areas of interest are the political demography of Korea and Korean American communities. His recent publications include: "State, Society, and Economic Development in a Sport Life Cycle: The Case of Boxing in Korea," East Asia: An International Quarterly 24 (1), (Spring 2007), forthcoming. "Election Democracy, Populism, and Generational Politics: The Case of the April 15, 2004 General Election in South Korea." East Asia: An International Quarterly 22 (1), (Spring 2005): 51-81; "Presidential Elections, Internet Politics, and Citizens' Organizations in Korea." Development and Society 34 (1), (June 2005): 25-48. "An Analysis of Social Network Structures in the Korean Film Industry." Journal of East Asian Studies 4 (2), (May-August 2004): 285-300, with Sangyub Park; "Culture, Gender Roles, and Sport: The Case of Korean Players on the LPGA Tour." Journal of Sport and Social Issues 28 (3) (August 2004): 223-244, with Edward Nam; "The Role of NGOs in Political Elections in Korea: The Case of the Citizens' Alliance for the 2000 General Election." Asian Survey 43 (July/August 2003): 697-715.

ICKS-KAUPA JOINT ANNUAL CONFERENCE 2007
East-West Center, Honolulu, Hawaii; June 28 - 29, 2007

CONTACT INFORMATION @ PANELISTS AND SPEAKERS

Panelists	Name	E-mail	Telephone	Fax
Panel I	Hong Nack Kim	hongkim@wvu.edu	304-293-3811	304-293-8644
	ChoongNam Kim	kimcn@eastwestcenter.org	808-944-7372	808-944-7446
	Kap Yun Lee	kyunlee@sogang.ac.kr	82-2-705-8394	82-2-705-8362
	Jin Ha Kim	jhkim@kmu.ac.kr	82-53-580-6241	82-53-580-6244
	Jong O. Ra	jra@hollins.edu	540-362-6448	540-362-6286
	YoungWhan Kihl	ykihl@iastate.edu	480-961-9467	515-294-1003
Luncheon (28th)	Charles Morrison	morrisoc@eastwestcenter.org	808-944-7103	808-944-7106
Panel II	Raymond Burghardt	burgharR@eastwestcenter.org	808-944-7615	808-944-7600
	Stephen Noerper	Steve.noerper@gmail.com	212-984-5472	212-984-5353
	Elizabeth Davis	davise@apcss.org	808-564-5006	808-971-8949
	YoungWhan Kihl	ykihl@iastate.edu	480-961-9467	515-294-1003
	Hang Yul Rhee	yrhee@shepherd.edu	304-876-5327	304-876-5193
	Alex. Mansourov	mansourova@apcss.org	808-564-5035	808-971-8949
	ChoongNam Kim	kimcn@eastwestcenter.org	808-944-7372	808-944-7446
	Harry Richardson	hrichard@usc.edu	213-740-3954	213-740-0001
Panel III	Jae-Chang Kim	Jekim_kor@yahoo.com	82-2-2123-4182	822-549-9346
	Patrick Morgan	pmmorgan@uci.edu	949-824-3187	949-824-8762
	Hyun Ki Kim	Peter1008@hanmail.net	82-2-794-0094	82-2-795-2183
	David Fouse	foused@apcss.org	808-564-5039	808-971-8949
	Steven Kim	kims@apcss.net	808-971-4057	808-971-8949
	Jae Kap Ryoo	jaeryoo@empal.com	82-31-249-9346	82-31-249-9314
	Kwang On Hyun	cokuss@korea.com	82-2-795-5970	82-2-549-9346
	Hugo W. Kim	Hugo33kim@verizon.net	202-554-2105	202-554-2087

Panelists	Name	E-mail	Telephone	Fax
Dinner Speakers	Thomas B. Fargo	tfargo@trexenterprises.com	808-521-4908	808-521-4906
	Jae-Chang Kim	Jckim_kor@yahoo.com	82-2-2123-4182	822-549-9346
Panel IV	Youn-suk Kim	younkim@aol.com	908-737-4153	908-737-4145
	Scott C. Bradford	Bradford@byu.edu	801-422-8358	801-422-0194
	Yoon-shik Park	yspark@gwu.edu	202-994-8215	202-994-7422
	Soon Paik	Paik.soon@bls.gov	202-691-7875	202-691-7753
	Dong-Keun Jeong	jeongd@ncat.edu	336-282-7556	336-334-7093
	Jung-In Youn	yji0602@naver.com	808-218-1885	808-944-7446
	Christine Bae	cbae@u.washington.edu	206-616-9034	206-685-9597
Panel V	Richard Baker	BakerR@EastWestCenter.org	808-844-7371	808-944-7106
	Terence Roehrig	Terence.roehrig@nwc.navy.mil	401-841-7509	401-841-3893
	Emanuel Pastreich	epastreich@wsu.ac.kr	82-42-630-9124	82-42-630-9129
	Sunwoong Kim	kim@uwm.edu	414-229-6924	414-229-3860
	Jong O. Ra	jra@hollins.edu	540-362-6448	540-362-6286
	Hang Yul Rhee	yrhee@shepherd.edu	304-876-5327	304-876-5193
	Jonathan Kriekhaus	kriekhausj@missouri.edu	573-882-9473	573-884-5131
Luncheon (29 th)	Dae-Hyun Kang	cghi@mofat.go.kr	808-595-6109	808-595-3046
Panel VI	Sunwoong Kim	kim@uwm.edu	414-229-6924	414-229-3860
	Young Chul Kim	chul@kedi.re.kr	82-2-3460-0305	82-2-3460-0117
	Young Lee	younglee@hanyang.ac.kr	82-2-2290-1023	82-2-2296-9587
	Ji-Yub (Jay) Kim	jaykim@marshall.usc.edu	213-479-6672	213-740-4582
	Keun Woo Lee	leek@eastwestcenter.org	808-944-7593	803-944-7070
	Eui Hang Shin	kenshin@snu.ac.kr	82-2-880-4006	82-2-880-5673

 Star-marked panelist serves two panels.